I am happy to visit schools/libraries/book clubs/anywhere else you can imagine, as my schedule allows. Below are some examples of the programs I typically give, but I'm flexible. E-mail me if interested.

AUTHOR VISIT/BOOK SIGNING—This program lasts approximately one-two hours. I tell the fun story of writing and publishing my book, take questions, and sign/sell books afterwards. The program can include a PowerPoint presentation or not, and can be adjusted for time or the age of the audience. Works with book groups just as well as with larger crowds. The fee is $200 (speaking fee) plus .50/mile travel expense and $200 additional if overnight stay is required.

WRITING WORKSHOP — I lead an interactive workshop on the topic of “Writing a Detective Story.” It includes a look at great detectives in fiction as well as lots of fun tips for writing your own mystery. Can be done for adults or young writers (middle school or high school). Everyone leaves the (approximately one hour) session with a blueprint for their own detective story. The fee is $200 (per session) plus .50/mile travel expense and $200 additional if overnight stay is required. I may be able to lead sessions on other writing topics for the same fee. Please contact me with specifics.

ALL DAY SCHOOL VISIT — I will visit your school and do as many talks/workshops/classes/etc. as we can schedule! $500/day plus .50/mile travel expense and $200 additional if overnight stay is required.

VIRTUAL VISITS (Skype) - Twenty minute Q and A session: Free! In-Depth Visit (up to one hour) - $100

“Students really enjoyed Mr. Berk’s visit to Allen; they couldn’t stop talking about it! Josh Berk is an inspiration to future writers and artists everywhere!” -Amanda Riggle, English Teacher, William Allen High School

“Josh did a terrific job and the audience loved it! I appreciate the time, energy, and enthusiasm that he put into the presentation.” - Mary Ann Lewis, Young Adult Services Librarian, Associated Libraries of Monroe

Thanks for your interest! Please contact me to book a visit or for more information.
